

Monica Fontana

Monica Fontana was born in the United States in 1965, she moved to Europe in 1970 and grew up in Parma (Italy). In 1991, while writing her University thesis, she started working for ERA-EDTA (an English and Welsh Charity with more than 7,000 members, two medical journals, a guideline body, various working groups, supporting a registry; fellowships; research programs; educational courses and organizing the second largest annual nephrology Congress worldwide) as the person in charge of the membership office. From 1995 till 2016, working from home, she added many other tasks to her main duty: the bylaws, advisor to the President (and Council), advertising and public relations. Since 2016, she became the Executive Manager of the Association and the CEO of a limited company owned by ERA-EDTA that organizes medical events. In 2019 she was nominated Executive Director thus not only managing all the international operative staff of the Association but also assisting the Council directly in the strategic goals of ERA-EDTA.
